

A Personal Story

- By David

"Believe Me, I Know Where You Are Coming From And Where You Wish To Go"

Up until a several years ago, I was fairly happy but sometimes I was struggling internally and externally. I wanted this to stop, but didn't know how. I had my dreams; I tried a lot but didn't know how to achieve them. I sometimes felt split and conflicted within, and I didn't know why or how to resolve that. And then I found the art of living. And now, things are great and they just keep getting better and better and better! And better and better and better! AND BETTER!

You just want life to finally make sense and start working out for you, right?

OK, I won't waste your time with my whole life story - just give me a couple of minutes, though, to show you that you can finally "get life!" no matter where you are or where you start from. I am 30 years of age. I was born in Kenya and my foot has stepped in about 30 countries worldwide (and counting). Having spent most of my time self-employed, I have been employed for only one-and-a-half months all my life but have been involved in or started several business over the years - some worked, some didn't - and at the very beginning they were actually undercapitalised disasters :)

Anyway, the tide changed as I gained understanding and self-knowledge. Recently, I was part of an upcoming worldwide television event called The Secret (see a preview on our website). I have also written several eBooks and am involved in several physical and online ventures. Like I said, things just keep getting easier and easier, better and better. Internally, things now make sense, and externally, they flow with ease to the extent that I let them. The fear and confusion has been replaced with clarity and trust.

But it wasn't always like that. It only became so when I committed myself to learning how the universe works, how life works, how the human mind and emotion system works. All knowledge leads to self-knowledge. And once you know - well, you just know and through that understanding, you can do anything :) For example, if you don't know how to drive a Formula 1 car, you will crash it. But if you know, you will enjoy the race and perhaps even win and enjoy some glory. What you know or don't know makes a big difference in your life, especially when it comes to how life truly works, how to achieve abundance and security, and so on.

Enough about me. What we have here for you is an amazing collection of materials for your life. These are materials that I personally was helped immensely by. And not just me, but hundreds and hundreds of successful people over many, many decades have used exactly some of these same materials or concepts. The level of success you achieve with these materials is all up to you; you can take them as little or as big as you wish to go.

Who knows, you may even exceed the results of most of the people who have used them in the past.

Personally, I have nothing but good words for them. With the knowledge I gained from them, I have seen the world and done many of the things I only dreamt of doing. And it is only just the beginning! I haven't even scratched the surface yet; I am still integrating this wisdom daily, and each day gets more expansive.

You can have the same, and even more! Enjoy!
